Annual report 2018 - Absolute Return Strategy SICAV - Multi-Manager Hedge

Market review 2018

Despite the US economy expanding at a rate not seen in many years, strong corporate earnings and a vibrant labor market, financial markets were volatile throughout most of 2018. After an extraordinary calm preceding year, 2018 can be characterized as the return of market volatility. The year began with enthusiasm for global stock markets. A strong rise of earnings expectations, on the back of fiscal stimulus passing through US Congress, pushed US equity markets to new all-time highs in the first few weeks of 2018. Sentiment shifted quickly however. Anxiety over US wage inflation and rising bond yields was a key driver for an early-year equity market correction in all major markets. While US markets were able to recover and continued their upward path towards new highs in September, stocks markets elsewhere in the world weakened for the remainder of the year. In Europe, aside from economic data disappointing relative to expectations, politics remained center stage with the UK Brexit saga adding new chapters, Italy on a collision course with Brussels on its budget proposals and French president Emmanuel Macron confronted with protests around his reform program. Trade tensions between the US and China also weighed on the European economy. These tensions also augmented more meaningful concerns about the fragility of the Chinese economy as a result of domestic deleveraging biting harder than intended by policy makers. The Chinese policy makers seemed more willing to act aggressively to boost private sector growth as the year progressed, with tax cuts, moderate easing in monetary policy and the decline in the exchange rate around mid-year. During the fourth quarter market volatility picked up significantly with a repricing of US growth expectations in the face of less friendly fiscal and monetary policy. The S&P 500 finished the fourth quarter down over 13% pushing the index into negative territory for the year with a loss of 4,4%. This made 2018 the first calendar year post the financial crisis where US equities delivered negative returns. Other equity markets fared much worse with the Euro Stoxx 50 Index and MSCI Emerging Markets Index down 15% and 14,6% respectively for the year. Within fixed income markets, the yield on 10-year Treasuries rose during most of the year, but as stock market volatility increased in the last quarter of the year safe haven demand drove prices higher. Ultimately, the yield on 10-year Treasuries closed 2018 at 2,68%, up from the 2017 closing yield of 2,41%. In Europe, bond markets were still supported by the ECB's quantitative easing program until December. The yield of 10-year German government debt fell by 23 basis points to end the year at 0.24%. Negative sentiment was also observable in most credit markets where corporate spreads rose, particularly for lower rated issuers in the back end of the year. The Bloomberg Barclays Global High Yield Index lost 4,06% in 2018. Similar to equities, the commodities complex had a volatile year with significant price declines in the fourth quarter. The S&P GSCI Index eventually returned -15,5% in 2018 having been up more than 13% in early October. The large decline in oil prices in the fourth quarter pushed the index lower. This was in part attributable to a perceived easing of President Trump's position on Iranian sanctions. As to currencies, most EM currencies faced headwinds in 2018 amid a blend of a strong US dollar, rising global bond yields and country-specific crises, Turkey and Argentina being the most notable. The euro also depreciated against the dollar by 4,5% over the year as did the British pound by 5,6%.

Developments and performance

Absolute Return Strategy SICAV - Multi-Manager Hedge (the "Fund") performed -3.1% net for the year 2018. The HFRX Global Hedge Index EUR declined by 9.93%.

With cash outperforming almost every asset class, sudden sharp reversals in investor sentiment and a high degree of political uncertainty, hedge funds faced challenging market conditions in 2018. The majority of the underlying managers posted negative returns for the year, but thanks to the performance of some of the managers in the distressed space (Davidson Kempner and Taconic Opportunity Offshore) and the outstanding performance of H2O Allegro, the fund managed to largely preserve capital before US dollar hedging costs. Unsurprisingly, in an environment with risk assets under pressure, long/short equity funds, that tend to have a structural long bias to equity markets, were dragged down in the fourth quarter when markets sold off hard. In a wave of deleveraging across hedge funds, crowded US tech stocks in particular got hit. The long/short equity funds within Absolute Return Strategy SICAV - Multi-Manager Hedge lost between about 3% and 7% in 2018. Equity Market Neutral managers were faced throughout the year with shifts in market regime and factor leadership, making it a tough environment for non-directional strategies. The most negative monthly returns for these managers were also in the fourth quarter when the - up to then - strong performance of momentum stocks rapidly reversed and investors rotated from growth/cyclical stocks into defensive names. Our selection of Market Neutral managers ended the year with a low single-digit performance. Among hedge fund strategies in 2018, Credit/Distressed and Global Macro were the best performing categories. Within the fund, the performance of discretionary global macro managers was mixed. Trend Macro disappointed in 2018, mainly due to short positions on Italian debt markets and long positions in Argentina bonds that translated into losses for the fund. On the other side of the spectrum was H2O Allegro that had another stellar year with a double-digits performance. Their currency positions, long USD in particular, had the largest positive contribution to performance. Systematic strategies with a trend following component, that came into the year with long positions in risk assets, suffered from the market reversals in late January. While some managers, like AHL Alpha, were able to recoup most of these losses during the rest of the year, others like R CFM Diversified were not. Two of the three multi-strategy funds in the portfolio posted positive returns, with the Taconic Opportunity Offshore being a positive outlier as a result of some of its M&A related and distressed holdings.

During the year manager turnover was fairly low. In the first quarter the position in the Standard Life Global Absolute Return Fund was sold after a sustained period of weak returns and the departure of key staff. Most of the changes in the portfolio around midyear where related to substantial inflows into the fund that led to the rebalancing of many holdings. Towards year end the position in GAM Star Global Rates was sold. This was related to negative headlines around GAM. While the news flow was not linked to our specific holding, the combination of a lackluster performance, risk limits of the fund reaching the high end of our comfort zone and the possibility of strong outflows, made us decide to sell the position. In the last quarter we also increased our allocation to Global Macro and CTA strategies by adding to Trend Macro and AHL Alpha. This was done with the goal of adding to strategies that should be able to perform well in the case that an unexpected global recession would lead to a sustained down trend.

Market outlook

In 2018, after years of relatively low volatility on financial markets, investors were confronted again with strong market fluctuations. With most central banks gradually moving away from the era of ultra-accommodating monetary policy and with late cycle dynamics becoming more pronounced, we believe a higher volatility regime is here to stay. While this type of environment is likely to be reflected in the return stream of the fund, we do expect that a prolonged period of higher volatility will create opportunities for several of the managers we invest with. We continue to like global macro managers as they should see their opportunity set broaden with market dislocations becoming more frequent. While sudden factor-, style- and market reversals will remain challenging for market neutral and CTA strategies, our selection of managers have demonstrated in the past the ability to navigate through these episodes. Global M&A activity experienced a slowdown in the second half of 2018, in the context of the ongoing trade war, lower growth expectations and political uncertainties. As we expects some of these risks to subside and with wider deal spreads, opportunities will remain for our event-driven multi strategy managers. The performance of long/short equity and credit managers will be largely affected by the general trend of risk assets. Our research efforts in 2019 will focus more on introducing new sources of returns. Increasing the diversification of the portfolio is a continuous process and this becomes even more important at a time when traditional asset classes are losing steam.

What we have audited

The Fund's financial statements comprise:

- the statement of net assets as at 31 December 2018:
- the statement of investments and other net assets as at 31 December 2018;
- the statement of operations for the year then ended;
- the statement of changes in net assets for the year then ended; and
- the notes to the financial statements, which include a summary of significant accounting policies.

Basis for opinion

We conducted our audit in accordance with the Law of 23 July 2016 on the audit profession (Law of 23 July 2016) and with International Standards on Auditing (ISAs) as adopted for Luxembourg by the "Commission de Surveillance du Secteur Financier" (CSSF). Our responsibilities under the Law of 23 July 2016 and ISAs as adopted for Luxembourg by the CSSF are further described in the "Responsibilities of the "Réviseur d'entreprises agréé" for the audit of the financial statements" section of our report.

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion.

We are independent of the Fund in accordance with the International Ethics Standards Board for Accountants' Code of Ethics for Professional Accountants (IESBA Code) as adopted for Luxembourg by the CSSF together with the ethical requirements that are relevant to our audit of the financial statements. We have fulfilled our other ethical responsibilities under those ethical requirements.

Other information

The Board of Directors of the Fund is responsible for the other information. The other information comprises the information stated in the annual report but does not include the financial statements and our audit report thereon.

Our opinion on the financial statements does not cover the other information and we do not express any form of assurance conclusion thereon.

In connection with our audit of the financial statements, our responsibility is to read the other information identified above and, in doing so, consider whether the other information is materially inconsistent with the financial statements or our knowledge obtained in the audit, or otherwise appears to be materially misstated. If, based on the work we have performed, we conclude that there is a material misstatement of this other information, we are required to report that fact. We have nothing to report in this regard.

Responsibilities of the Board of Directors of the Fund for the financial statements

The Board of Directors of the Fund is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of the financial statements in accordance with Luxembourg legal and regulatory requirements relating to the preparation and presentation of the financial statements, and for such internal control as the Board of Directors of the Fund determines is necessary to enable the preparation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the financial statements, the Board of Directors of the Fund is responsible for assessing the Fund's ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless the Board of Directors of the Fund either intends to liquidate the Fund or to cease operations, or has no realistic alternative but to do so.

Responsibilities of the "Réviseur d'entreprises agréé" for the audit of the financial statements

The objectives of our audit are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an audit report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with the Law of 23 July 2016 and with ISAs as adopted for Luxembourg by the CSSF will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these financial statements.

As part of an audit in accordance with the Law of 23 July 2016 and with ISAs as adopted for Luxembourg by the CSSF, we exercise professional judgment and maintain professional scepticism throughout the audit. We also:

- identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control:
- obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Fund's internal control;
- evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by the Board of Directors of the Fund;

- conclude on the appropriateness of the Board of Directors of the Fund's use of the going concern basis of accounting and, based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the Fund's ability to continue as a going concern. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our audit report to the related disclosures in the financial statements or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our audit report. However, future events or conditions may cause the Fund to cease to continue as a going concern;
- evaluate the overall presentation, structure and content of the financial statements, including the disclosures, and whether the financial statements represent the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation.

We communicate with those charged with governance regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that we identify during our audit.

Notes to the financial statements

as at 31st December 2018

Note 1 - General information

Absolute Return Strategy SICAV (the "Company") was incorporated in Luxembourg on 29th November 2002 for an unlimited period and is an open-ended investment company registered pursuant to Part II of the Luxembourg law of 17th December 2010 on Undertakings for Collective Investment (the "Law of 2010"). The Company qualifies as an Alternative Investment Fund ("AIF") under the Law of 12th July 2013 on Alternative Investment Fund Managers ("AIFM") implementing Directive 2011/61/EU of the European Parliament and of the Council of 8th June 2011 on Alternative Investment Fund Managers (the "AIFMD").

The most recent financial statements, annual report, key investor information document as well as copies of the Articles of Incorporation of the Company and the material contracts referred to in the prospectus are available for inspection during usual business hours at the registered office of the Company in Luxembourg and can be obtained free of charge upon request from the AIFM.

Note 2 - Significant accounting policies

a) Presentation of the financial statements

The financial statements of the Company are prepared in accordance with Luxembourg legal and regulatory requirements concerning undertakings for collective investment and with generally accepted accounting principles in Luxembourg.

b) Valuation of assets

Each share or unit in an open-ended UCI is valued at the last available Net Asset Value whether estimated or final, which is computed for such units or shares at or prior to the valuation day on which the Net Asset Value of the Shares of the Sub-Fund is determined and as approved by the Central Administration of the Company.

In assessing the valuation of the underlying funds, reliance is placed upon unaudited Net Asset Values supplied by the underlying funds or their administrators, which may be subject to adjustment upon finalisation of the audit of their financial statements.

The financial statements include investments in underlying investment funds, whose fair values have been derived from unaudited net asset values provided by such funds or their agents in accordance with the prospectus.

In respect of shares or units held by the Company, for which issues and redemptions are restricted and a secondary market trading is effected between dealers who, as main market makers, offer prices in response to market conditions, the Directors may decide to value such shares or units in line with the prices so established.

If events have occurred which may have resulted in a material change in the Net Asset Value of such shares or units in other UCI since the day on which the latest Net Asset Value was calculated, the value of such shares or units may be adjusted in order to reflect, in the reasonable opinion of the Board of Directors, such change of value.

Securities (including shares or units in closed-ended UCIs) which are quoted or dealt in on a stock exchange are valued at their latest available published stock exchange closing price or, for securities quoted or dealt on several stock exchanges, at the closing price on the stock exchange which is normally the principal market for such security.

Securities traded on another regulated market operating regularly, recognised and open to the public (a "regulated market"), are valued as near as possible as for quoted securities.

In the event that any of the securities held in any portfolio at the valuation day are not quoted or traded on a stock exchange or another regulated market or, for any one of the securities, no price quotation is available, or if the price as determined pursuant to the above mentioned paragraphs is not in the opinion of the Board of Directors representative of the fair market value of the relevant securities, the value of such securities is determined based on the reasonably foreseeable sales price determined prudently and in good faith.

If, since the valuation day there has been a material movement in the quotations on the markets on which a substantial portion of the investments of the Company attributable to a particular Sub-Fund is listed or dealt in, the Board of Directors may, in order to safeguard the interests of the Shareholders and the Company, cancel the first valuation and carry out a second valuation.

Should circumstances so require, the Board of Directors may also adopt other valuation methods in accordance with generally accepted procedures.
